From the Secretary General

Let me first extend my best wishes for the New Year. I hope that our readers were able to enjoy a happy and relaxing festive break.

In 2023, the IAIS will build on the successes of 2022 with a busy and exciting year ahead.

The 2022 year finished on a very positive note for the IAIS. In December, the Financial Stability Board (FSB) – the international body that monitors and makes recommendations about global financial stability – in consultation with the IAIS, decided to discontinue the annual identification of Global Systemically Important Insurers \(G-SIIs\) in favour of using the IAIS Holistic Framework, as a more effective basis for assessing and mitigating systemic risk in the insurance sector. This is great recognition for our hard work implementing the Holistic Framework over the last few years.

Going forward, the IAIS will continue to report on the outcomes of its Global Monitoring Exercise (GME) – our framework for monitoring risks and trends in the global insurance sector – and on our assessment of the implementation of Holistic Framework supervisory measures.

The work to support the Holistic Framework will be a key focus of our workplan for the next two years (Roadmap 2023-2024), which I am happy to announce was published earlier this month. The 2023-2024 Roadmap provides significant continuity in the IAIS' workplan, including finalising some key multi-year projects.

Alongside the work to support the Holistic Framework, the Roadmap highlights that 2023 will be critical for the Insurance Capital Standard (ICS) project. This year we will issue a public consultation on the ICS as a prescribed capital requirement (PCR) and undertake an ICS economic impact assessment. We will also begin an assessment of whether the Aggregation Method (AM) provides comparable outcomes to the ICS and hence will be considered an outcome-equivalent approach for implementation of the ICS as a PCR.

The IAIS will also continue to respond to emerging and accelerating risks, challenges and opportunities. This includes progressing our pioneering work on climate-related risks, which, in 2023, will see the commencement of a project focused on the role of supervisors in addressing natural catastrophe protection gaps. The IAIS will also advance projects and activities focused on the important themes of cyber risk; operational resilience; digital innovation; diversity, equity and inclusion (DEI); financial inclusion, and issues around conduct and culture. Often these strategic themes and the overarching IAIS response require contributions from several working groups and inputs from multiple IAIS projects underpinned by strong coordination. On page 15 of the Roadmap we have illustrated the cross-cutting nature of these initiatives with a new graphic.

We will also continue to build on our significant programme of implementation assessment in the 2023-2024 period. The results of the Targeted Jurisdictional Assessment (TJA) of Holistic Framework supervisory material will be published in 2023, and we will commence follow-on work on Holistic Framework implementation monitoring in targeted areas.

Additionally, the IAIS will continue to assist members in identifying gaps in their observance of the Insurance Core Principles (ICPs) and will enhance its support for effective peer exchange, capacity building and supervisory cooperation.

In progressing these important initiatives, we will continue to work with key partners such as the FSB, as well as our implementation partners. We also look forward to consulting and collaborating with our network of stakeholders. A summary of planned consultations, publications and stakeholder engagements in the 2023-2024 period can be found at the end of the Roadmap document.

The 2023-2024 Roadmap presents a comprehensive and balanced suite of projects and activities at a critical juncture for global regulatory reforms and enhanced supervisory practices to tackle key risks and trends in the insurance sector. We look forward to working with our members and in partnership with our stakeholders to bring it to fruition.

Jonathan Dixon, Secretary General

In Focus

FSB endorses IAIS Holistic Framework and discontinues annual identification of G-SIIs

In December 2022, the Financial Stability Board (FSB) decided to discontinue the annual identification of Global Systemically Important Insurers (G-SIIs), formally endorsing the IAIS Holistic Framework for the assessment and mitigation of systemic risk in the insurance sector.

This is a significant milestone for the IAIS because it acknowledges that the Holistic Framework is more effective in assessing and mitigating systemic risk in the insurance sector than the G-SII framework and that, going forward, the FSB will use the Holistic Framework to inform its consideration of systemic risk in the insurance sector.

Demonstrated benefits

Demonstrated benefits of the Holistic Framework relative to the annual G-SII identification include:

- The systemic risk assessment through the Global Monitoring Exercise (GME) has proven more comprehensive, forward-looking and versatile in times of crises;
- The Holistic Framework supports a more robust collective discussion amongst supervisors on the potential build-up of systemic risk and appropriate supervisory responses;
- Enhanced supervisory measures for macroprudential purposes are applied to a much broader set of insurers than those formerly identified as G-SIIs; and
- Robust implementation assessment of the Holistic Framework supervisory measures helps ensure they are implemented in a comprehensive and consistent manner across jurisdictions.

The strong implementation of the Holistic Framework over the last three years was made possible thanks to the excellent cooperation and coordination amongst IAIS membership in the relevant (sub)committees, participating insurers and jurisdictions, respective group-wide supervisors (GWSs) and the Secretariat team.

The road ahead

The Holistic Framework risk assessment through the GME and the robust implementation of enhanced supervisory measures provide the IAIS with a solid framework to assess and respond to key risks and trends and the potential build-up of systemic risk in the insurance sector. This is more relevant than ever given the current macroeconomic context.

Going forward, the IAIS will continue to report to the FSB on the key outcomes of the Holistic Framework. Continued strong engagement of members, insurers and supervisors will be important. The FSB intends to review its experiences with the process of assessing and mitigating systemic risk based on the Holistic Framework in November 2025.

The IAIS has recently finalised the development of liquidity metrics as an ancillary indicator in the GME and will continue to refine its risk assessment, starting with a public consultation on the triennial review of the IIM assessment methodology, for which stakeholder input is sought by 6 February 2023.

Going forward, it will be important to continue refining the global risk assessment and ensuring robust implementation of supervisory measures, with strong engagement of insurers and supervisors.

GIMAR

IAIS publishes 2022 GIMAR

The 2022 Global Insurance Market Report (GIMAR) presents the outcomes of the 2022 Global Monitoring Exercise (GME), the risk assessment element of the IAIS Holistic Framework for the assessment and mitigation of systemic risk in the insurance sector.

In summary, the 2022 GIMAR finds that:

- Systemic risk in the insurance sector on aggregate remains moderate. However, there is an upward trend in insurers' total systemic risk scores, in particular driven by increased exposures to illiquid, difficult-to-value assets, over-the-counter derivatives, short-term funding and intra-financial assets.
- Insurers' solvency and profitability positions improved in 2021, supported by strong performance of financial markets. Since 2022, geopolitical conflicts, inflation, tightening monetary policy and the deteriorating economic outlook have led to an increase in market, credit and liquidity risks.
- Key macroprudential themes identified for in-depth analysis were (1) lower macroeconomic outlook, high inflation and rising interest rates; (2) structural shifts in the life insurance sector, including the involvement of private equity; and (3) climate-related risks.

ROADMAP

IAIS publishes 2023-2024 Roadmap

On 11 January, the IAIS published its 2023-2024 Roadmap. The Roadmap outlines the IAIS' work plan addressing key risks and trends in the insurance sector for the next two years. It guided by the 2020-2024 Strategic Plan.

The 2023-2024 Roadmap provides significant continuity in the IAIS' workplan, with activities focused on:

- Finalising the development of global standards, in particular, the Insurance Capital Standard (ICS) for Internationally Active Insurance Groups (IAIGs);
- Assessing trends and risks in the global insurance sector – through the GME – an important pillar of the Holistic Framework for the assessment and mitigation of systemic risk;
- Promoting effective supervisory practices, particularly in responding to accelerating trends in the global insurance sector; and
- Supporting and assessing the implementation of agreed global standards and assessing their comprehensive and consistent implementation, including the macroprudential supervisory measures that form part of the Holistic Framework.

Often these strategic themes and the overarching IAIS response require contributions from several subcommittees and input from multiple IAIS projects underpinned by strong coordination. On page 15 of the Roadmap, a graphic illustrates the cross-cutting nature of these initiatives.

DIVERSITY, EQUITY AND INCLUSION

IAIS reports on diversity, equity and inclusion action in the insurance sector

Diversity, equity and inclusion (DEI) is one of the IAIS' strategic themes in recognition that advancing DEI within insurers' organisations and in the way they operate their businesses supports better prudential and consumer outcomes.

In December, the IAIS published a stocktake report on the actions IAIS member supervisors, other international organisations and the insurance industry are taking to advance DEI in the insurance sector.

The report provides rich insights into various insurance supervisors' activities to promote DEI in insurers, covering both prudential and conduct supervisors. These insights can guide other supervisors on the steps they could take to advance DEI in their own jurisdictions.

The report also summarises the perspectives of a sample of stakeholders in the insurance industry on why they see DEI as important to insurers, the biggest challenges they face, and what they think supervisors can do.

Observing a growing interest in DEI from several international organisations but with direct action still largely at an early stage, the IAIS will maintain a focus on DEI and launch two new projects this year:

- One will examine the link between DEI within an insurer's institution and its governance, risk management and corporate culture; and
- The other will examine how DEI considerations in insurers' conduct of business, and in their supervision, may result in fairer treatment of consumers who are vulnerable, under-served or have different needs in comparison with a normative or majority consumer profile.

The IAIS is also committed to strengthening its own DEI as a global membership association.

Upcoming stakeholder session

On 9 February 2023, 13:00 – 14:00 CET, the IAIS will hold a virtual stakeholder session to give an overview of the IAIS' work on DEI in the insurance sector and to receive input from stakeholders to inform the IAIS' next projects on DEI.

DIGITAL INNOVATION

Two IAIS publications on trends related to FinTech and SupTech

In December 2022, the IAIS issued two publications showcasing work on digital innovation, which is another strategic theme of the IAIS:

- An IAIS Report on FinTech developments in the insurance sector
- An A2ii-FSI-IAIS joint note on SupTech in insurance supervision

IAIS Report on Fintech

Financial technology (FinTech) presents significant opportunities for financial inclusion and policyholder value yet also poses market conduct and operational risks with the rapid expansion in alternative data sources and advanced data analytics having the potential to disrupt the insurance market or impact the trust of consumers in the sector.

The IAIS Report on FinTech, developed by the FinTech Forum, presents the outcomes of exploratory, deep dive assessments into three topics: Use of application programming interfaces (APIs) and open data; distributed ledger technologies (DLTs) and blockchain; and safe, fair and ethical adoption of artificial intelligence (AI) and machine learning (ML) and the use and governance of data.

The report benefits from input gathered through IAIS member surveys and interviews with market participants and experts.

A2ii-FSI-IAIS Note on SupTech

Given the increasing importance of the role of supervisory technology (SupTech), insurance supervisors see the need to clearly understand the potential of SupTech to aid their work.

The A2ii-FSI-IAIS Note on SupTech aims to contribute to this understanding by citing concrete examples of how SupTech tools are used by insurance supervisors. The note finds that SupTech tools for prudential supervision are similar to those used by banking supervisors. Most of the reported conduct tools, on the other hand, are specific to the insurance sector. Meanwhile, most of the tools that may be used for both prudential and market conduct supervision deal with facilitating data collections and analysis.

MEMBERSHIP

New IAIS MMoU signatory – the Arkansas Insurance Department

The IAIS is pleased to welcome the Arkansas Insurance Department (AID) as a member of its Multilateral Memorandum of Understanding (MMoU) – an international supervisory cooperation and information exchange agreement.

Through the accession of the AID, IAIS members will be able to further enhance financial stability and the sound supervision of cross-border insurers by exchanging relevant information and assisting other signatories with membership in the IAIS MMoU.

The IAIS MMoU provides a global framework of compliance and confidentiality to allow for open cooperation and exchange between insurance supervisors. Since the first jurisdiction was admitted in June 2009, the number of members has grown significantly, now representing three-quarters of global gross written premiums.

A complete list of international signatories and a copy of the IAIS MMoU can be found on the IAIS website by clicking here.

Partner milestone

As an observer of the Network for Greening the Financial System (NGFS) since July 2019, the IAIS has proudly helped the NGFS expand its efforts to green the financial system.

The NGFS celebrated on 12 December 2022 its five-year anniversary.

TRANSLATIONS

IAIS ICPs and ComFrame now available in Spanish

The Asociación de Supervisores de Seguros de América Latina \(ASSAL\) has developed an unofficial Spanish translation of the Insurance Core Principles (ICPs) and Common Framework for the Supervision of Internationally Active Insurance Groups (ComFrame) to support our Spanish-speaking members in their implementation efforts.

The translation is based on the November 2019 update of the ICPs, comprising the principle statements, standards and guidance as a globally accepted framework for insurance supervision. It also includes the translation of ComFrame adopted by the IAIS in November 2019.

Event Spotlight

Asian Insurance Forum | Virtual | 5 December 2022

IAIS Secretary General Jonathan Dixon spoke at the Asian Insurance Forum (AIF) in December about the lessons learnt in recent years on the critical role that global cooperation amongst insurance supervisors – but also with the insurance industry – plays in tackling increasingly global challenges and opportunities.

His remarks addressed the theme of the AIF conference on the need to “Reflect, Reset, Revive for a Resilient Future”. The speech considered three areas where a globally coordinated approach is critical: (i) maintaining financial stability; (ii) responding to climate change; and (iii) embracing appropriate financial innovation. He highlighted that these are all areas in which the supervisory community needs to re-set and revive its approaches for a more resilient future.

EIOPA Sustainable Finance Conference | Virtual | 7 December

IAIS Executive Committee Chair Victoria (Vicky) Saporta joined a panel discussion on climate risk as part of the EIOPA Sustainable Finance conference. She noted that climate change is a material risk for the insurance sector and that it will impact insurers on both sides of their balance sheets.

The document is available here.

Various IAIS publications, including the ICPs and ComFrame, are also available in other languages. These can be found on the IAIS website by clicking here.

Public consultation of the review of the IIM assessment methodology and publication of the liquidity metrics | Virtual | 10 January 2023

On 10 January, the IAIS held a webinar covering the public consultation on the triennial review of the systemic risk assessment methodology of the Individual Insurer Monitoring (IIM) and the publication of the liquidity risk metrics to monitor liquidity risks in the global insurance sector. More than 200 stakeholders registered for the event.

The webinar covered key points where stakeholder input is sought in order to refine the risk assessment, spanning from illiquid assets, reinsurance, derivatives, short-term funding and financial guarantees to the indicator reweighting and the insurer pool selection criteria. More insight was provided into the areas for further work for the liquidity metrics, notably regarding the exposure approach and company projection approach.

At its 13 December meeting, the RIPF considered the lessons learnt from market instability in the United Kingdom during late 2022 and the impact on the investment and liquidity strategies of pension funds as gilt yields increased. The Forum received presentations from several stakeholders who, amongst other things, considered supervisory and governance lessons from this recent incident together with the risks associated with leverage and illiquidity in defined benefit pension funds plus lessons for stress testing and scenario analysis.

At its 26 January meeting, the RIPF received an update from stakeholders on developments in the global annuities market, which considered the impact of the changing monetary policy landscape on both bulk transfer and retail annuities markets. The group also considered annuities-related consumer protection issues and the options available for pension income.

Financial Stability Institute (FSI) Report

Financial Stability Institute |  BIS

The Financial Stability Institute (FSI) was jointly created in 1998 by the Bank for International Settlements and the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision to assist supervisors around the world in improving and strengthening their financial systems.

FSI Insights no 47, “SupTech in insurance supervision”

On 14 December, the FSI together with IAIS and A2ii published a paper exploring the potential of supervisory technology (SupTech) to aid insurance supervision. The paper included examples demonstrating how SupTech tools are used by 22 insurance supervisors.

The paper covers a total of 38 SupTech tools, which are classified according to their intended use in prudential supervision, conduct supervision, or both. It finds that SupTech tools used by insurance supervisors for prudential supervision are similar to those used by banking supervisors, while most of the reported conduct tools are specific to the insurance sector. Most of the tools that may be used for both prudential and conduct supervision deal with data collection. However, this field is advancing and many insurance supervisors aim to develop integrated systems that cover different applications and the entire supervisory process.

This is the first FSI Insights written jointly by authors from the FSI of the BIS, the IAIS Secretariat and the A2ii Secretariat.

The publication is available on the FSI, IAIS, and A2ii websites.

Climate Training Alliance

The first version of the Network for Greening the Financial System (NGFS) Sustainability Knowledge and Information Learning Library (NGFS SKILL) is now available on the Climate Training Alliance (CTA) portal. It provides a list of climate and environment-related training resources (both live and self-study trainings) by NGFS members and observers. NGFS SKILL will be updated regularly.

Members of the IAIS can access NGFS SKILL through the CTA portal. To register, click here.

Access to Insurance Initiative (A2ii) Report

The Access to Insurance Initiative (A2ii) is a unique global partnership which inspires and supports insurance supervisors in promoting access to insurance for underserved and low-income populations. It is the IAIS implementation partner on financial inclusion.

RISK-BASED SUPERVISION – A2II-IAIS SUPERVISORY DIALOGUE | 1 DECEMBER 2022

On 1 December, the supervisory dialogue on risk-based supervision took place. This dialogue was a continuation of the dialogue that took place in 2021 on risk-based capital regimes in emerging markets (report available).

During this session, Peter Windsor, Senior Financial Sector Expert at the IMF, provided some insights from the IAIS Annual Conference workshop on the same topic, focusing on the drivers for jurisdictions to move towards risk-based supervision, and the key takeaways for jurisdictions in doing so.

After this presentation, he moderated a panel discussion joined by Alma Gomez, Supervisor of Insurance, International Insurance and Pensions (OSIPP – Belize), Asmaa Jabri, Director of Insurance Supervision and RBS Project Manager (ACAPS – Morocco) and Edith Apoo, Senior Risk and Actuarial Officer (IRA Uganda).

Panellists presented on the current status of the implementation of RBS in each jurisdiction, and answered questions around challenges, lessons and recommendations for jurisdictions wanting to implement RBS.

The recording of this session will be available to supervisors on our learning platform Connect.A2ii shortly, in addition to the recording from the IAIS Annual Conference session.

About the IAIS

The International Association of Insurance Supervisors (IAIS) is a voluntary membership organisation of insurance supervisors and regulators from more than 200 jurisdictions. The mission of the IAIS is to promote effective and globally consistent supervision of the insurance industry in order to develop and maintain fair, safe and stable insurance markets for the benefit and protection of policyholders and to contribute to global financial stability.

Established in 1994, the IAIS is the international standard setting body responsible for developing principles, standards and other supporting material for the supervision of the insurance sector and assisting in their implementation. The IAIS also provides a forum for members to share their experiences and understanding of insurance supervision and insurance markets.

The IAIS coordinates its work with other international financial policymakers and associations of supervisors or regulators and assists in shaping financial systems globally. In particular, the IAIS is a member of the Financial Stability Board (FSB), member of the Standards Advisory Council of the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) and partner in the Access to Insurance Initiative (A2ii). In recognition of its collective expertise, the IAIS also is routinely called upon by the G20 leaders and other international standard-setting bodies for input on insurance issues as well as on issues related to the regulation and supervision of the global financial sector.
